House Approves Measure To Lower Tariffs

Game Commission Buys 321-Acre County Tract

MONROE County's outstanding hunting and fishing sources were increased considerably yesterday with the purchase of 321 acres of land in the heart of Barrett Township by the State Game Commission.

The transaction was another of the numerous advances made in this field by State Game Commissioner Benjamin K. Williams, East Stroudsburg. The deed for the sale was recorded yesterday at the office of Floyd Butz in the county courthouse.

The land, which is in the popular Devil's Hole area, now gives the state 4,121 acres in that tract. The addition increased the county's available state hunting land to 33,576 acres.

The purchase was made from Susan C. Calkins, of Wayne, Delaware County for $9,654. It is expected to be a valuable addition for the hunting of deer and wild turkeys as well as for fishing.

Commissioner Williams released the following statement to The Daily Record following the completion of the purchase: "I am very proud in having had some small part in securing for all the citizens of Monroe County the Patrick Moore Warrantee site in Barrett Township. This acquisition by the game commission as-ures the people of this county valuable game lands. This tract is in the center of a 3800 acre tract and now the Commonwealth has approximately 4,121 acres in this tract."

He added: "This land will afford the people of our community as well as to our visitors and our future children a beautiful tract of land for hunting and fishing. It will be a paradise for the sportsmen."

Williams has been active in promoting outdoor sports in this county and has played an important role in ranking this sector high among the state's leading hunting and fishing areas.

Boy Admits Killing Girl To Silence Her

DETROIT, Feb. 18 (AP)—"I had to kill her—so she wouldn't tell her mother."

Calm and dry-eyed, 16-year-old Floyd Diamond told state police today in gruesome detail how he stabbed and beat to death pretty 9-year-old Kathleen (Kathy) McLaughlin last night and left her body in an icy pond.

Oakland County Prosecutor Fred C. Zieman said the youth's story to state authorities was almost exactly as he had told it to him three hours after the girl's distraught father lifted the battered body from the freezing waters.

Zieman said it went like this: Floyd and Kathy were scuffling. "Then she got mad and called me names," Floyd said, "and I started to hit her with my fists. 'I knocked her down and she jumped up and started to run. 'I got my knife out and started running after her. I wanted to kill her then."

"She tripped and I fell on top of her. The knife (a pocket knife Floyd was carrying) accidentally stuck in her back."

"I had to kill her then—so she wouldn't tell her mother what I had done."

"She kept screaming, but I kept stabbing her—5 or 10 times."

In his matter-of-fact tone the boy described dragging the unconscious child 30 feet to the pond.

"She came to, then," he said, "so I found a rock and hit her three times."

Field Tells Of Five Years Spent In Polish Prison Cell

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Hermann Field told the story today of his five years in a Polish prison cell. To show for it, he said, he has the manuscript of a novel and a $50,000 indemnity payment from the Polish government.

But he was unable to shed much light on the long mystery of the "disappearing Fields."

He denied emphatically before a news conference that he ever had been a Communist. But he did not know about his elder brother Noel, the first of the Fields to disappear behind the Iron Curtain. Noel and his wife, Herta, recently were released from a Hungarian prison and remained in asylum in Budapest. Noel's adopted daughter, Erica Wallach, is in a Soviet forced labor camp at Vorkuta.

Hermann, a 44-year-old Cleveland architect, said he does not have the faintest idea why he was arrested and jailed. He said the Poles paid him $50,000 indemnity and $1,500 more for medical treatment during convalescence since his release, in October.

He said he had never been an agent for anyone in any espionage enterprise, had never been brought to trial, never was solicited to confess and never heard that any formal charges had been filed against him.

"I think it is very hard for a person in normal life to understand the psychology of a person at the end of such a stretch as this, when it suddenly breaks and you almost break with it," Field said.

Nationalists Bag 22 Ships Of Red Convoy

TAIPEI, Formosa, Saturday, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Nationalists claimed today their biggest victory since being forced off the mainland—a submarine and 21 ships of a Chinese Red troop-carrying convoy sunk yesterday by warships and planes.

Possible loss of more than 1,600 Red soldiers was implied in the claim that eight Communist landing ships went down 15 miles off Chekiang Province during nearly 12 hours of steady attack 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

The Red convoy was believed to have been bent on reinforcing a garrison recently slipped into Tainan Island some 40 miles south of Nanchang, the Nationalists' northernmost outpost since evacuation of the Tachens.

Laurelton Trustees Refuse To Accept Two Resignations

LAURELTON, Pa., Feb. 18 (AP)—The resignations of the two highest officials at Laurelton State Village were turned down today by the Board of Trustees of the Union County institution.

At the same time the board president praised the work of the two Laurelton heads and criticized statements made against the institution by Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro.

Dr. Effie C. Ireland, superintendent, and her assistant, Dr. Catherine Edgett, submitted their resignations from the village to Fred W. Maue, board president, early this morning.

Shortly after calling a special meeting of the board, Maue released a statement in which he said the resignations had been turned down but that the two doctors refused to continue their services at the village.

Maue said their decisions to resign "must have been influenced by the slanderous and unproven charges brought against them by Mr. Harry Shapiro."

Shapiro, in his campaign to clean up what he described as "miserable conditions" in the state's mental hospitals, a few days ago turned his attention to Laurelton.

At that time he said there was evidence of "inhuman treatment" of the patients at the institution for female mental defectives.

However, yesterday he described the management of the village as having a "splendid attitude of co-operation" with his department.

Shapiro said that he understood the two doctors were going to leave the institution whether their resignations were accepted or not.

Mystery Ring Tapped Nearly 60,000 Phones

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Federal and local authorities today launched a wide-spread probe into a gigantic mystery wiretap center on Manhattan's East Side.

Some 48,000 to 60,000 phones, including the United Nations headquarters and most of the foreign consulates here, were at the mercy of the setup.

"We are conducting an investigation to determine whether there is a violation of federal law," said James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the FBI office here.

A parallel investigation to determine whether state law was violated was begun by Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

No arrests had been made and no wire tap equipment had been seized thus far.

In Washington, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) confirmed reports that the telephone lines of government officials there have been tapped. He declined further comment.

But Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY), whose New York apartment is located within the area covered by the wire tappers, expressed fear that such an operation presented "a grave danger of security leaks."

Personal extortion and business blackmail also were listed as potentials in such a wiretap center, bigger in operation than the entire telephone exchange of an average American city.

Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams ended a strange period of police department backing and filling by admitting his men raided the wiretap center a week ago today.

But he claimed police don't yet know what it is all about.

A tip from the New York Telephone Co. was said to have sparked the raid.

The elaborate setup was lodged in an apartment at 260 E. 55th St., furnished as though it was lived in.

Adams said the setup had access to six telephone exchanges, blanketing the East Side from 36th St. to 96th St.—an area of vast wealth in homes, shops and business establishments.

Adams would say only that three to five persons were on the premises. There were no arrests.

Recording machines for permanently capturing phone conversations were found in the apartment, he continued. But he declined to say if any of the equipment was in use when the raiders arrived.

Adams said he didn't think any of the equipment was of the sensitive electronic type, so secret that only the government is supposed to use it.

The commissioner denied reports that the wiretap investigation was linked to the Jan. 27 slaying of multimillionaire Serge Rubinstein.

Rubinstein reportedly made extensive use of wiretaps, not only for business purposes but to eavesdrop on cafe society beauties he squirmed about town.

Blizzard Roars Into Rockies, Great Plains

By The Associated Press

A ROARING blizzard and cold wave slammed into the Rockies and Great Plains yesterday blocking roads and halting air travel.

Another storm left parts of the Northeast buried under a paralyzing two-foot blanket of wet snow, while the coldest weather of the year stung the far Northwest.

Maine took the worst pounding from a two-day New England storm. Air travel halted, schools were closed, traffic was slowed and some telephone and power lines snapped under the weight of the snow.

Riding in on icy winds with gusts reaching up to 60 m. p. h., the blizzard and cold wave rolled over Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and the Dakotas and pressed on toward Kansas, Minnesota, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Pineau's Bid Turned Down By Assembly

PARIS, Saturday, Feb. 19 (AP)—The National Assembly early today turned down the bid of Christian Pineau to be premier of France. The official vote was 312 against, 268 for him.

Pineau, a 50-year-old Socialist who writes fairy tales as a hobby, had been struggling against odds since he first was summoned Monday morning by President Rene Coty to form a government.

At the outset he was conceded a small chance, but he persisted and formed a Cabinet.

Pineau picked up a little strength but as the voting began he was reported an almost certain loser. It was expected that President Rene Coty would take a fresh start tomorrow in search of a premier.

There was speculation that a Radical Socialist would be called next, with Edgar Faure, Andre Morice, Maurice Bourges-Maunoury and Sen. Jean Bertho mentioned as leading possibilities. All are former ministers.

In trying to set himself up as the first Socialist Premier since 1947, Pineau pledged himself to work for quick final ratification of the Paris treaties for German rearmament, unceasing efforts for new Big Four talks, and increased trade between East and West.

No Trace Found Of Missing Navy Patrol Bomber

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 18 (AP)—A Navy patrol bomber with 11 men aboard vanished near here last night on a flight from Kodiak, and no trace of it was found today by a fleet of 42 search planes.

The Air Force said the Navy P2V Neptune presumably carried a crew of three, and the other eight men were passengers. The report added that some of the passengers may have been civilians. None was identified.

The twin-engine Neptune was due at Elmendorf Air Force Base here at 6:01 p.m. last night, but was behind schedule when it last made radio contact with the field at 6:22 p.m. It then was over the Anchorage radio range, and gave no indication it was in trouble.

Slated As Envoy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Former Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is slated to be the next U. S. ambassador to the Philippines.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—More than 100 cops stalked teeming Harlem today, guns poised for a suspected killer who skipped through three police traps. The whole city was alerted to the manhunt.

"Any cop who tries to get me I'll shoot," the fugitive was quoted as boasting. "The only way they'll take me is dead."

He is August Robles, 41, with a police record as a vicious gunman, quick on the trigger. Four detectives lost a brief gun battle with him early in the day as he fought to freedom.

Robles is believed to be toting at least four guns—three of them taken from other officers who cornered him but couldn't hold him. Police want him as suspected triggerman in last Tuesday's gangland-style slaying of Joseph Aronowitz, 40, an ex-convict reportedly ready to testify against fellow members of a Baltimore armed robbery gang. Aronowitz's body was found in his own car, parked in front of a Brooklyn coffin firm.

In his deft, dramatic duel with police Robles first disarmed three Brooklyn detectives, later shot it out with four Manhattan sleuths, and finally slipped through a cordon of cops who thought they had him trapped in a Harlem housing project.

The action began when three Brooklyn detectives—Joseph Keenan, George Tomaszewski and Patrick Buckley—trailed Robles to the sixth-floor apartment of a girl friend, Carmen Guzey, on E. 144th St.

Robles appeared to surrender meekly and stood still while the police searched him for weapons. But as they left the apartment, Keenan related, Robles tried to break for the stairway.

"I blocked him and suddenly he had a gun in my back," Keenan said.

How the gun escaped the detectives, they didn't know.

With the 6-foot, 200-pound Keenan at his mercy, the slender gunman forced all three detectives to drop their guns. Then he scooped them up and fled to the street.

"I had no alternative," Buckley said in explaining why he surrendered his weapon. "To have shot would have jeopardized the lives of my partners."

Plane Drops Small A-Bomb To Open Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 18 (AP)—One of the smaller A-bombs in the American arsenal exploded over Yucca Flat today, opening the 1955 test series in Nevada.

The 32nd shot to be set off at the Atomic Energy Commission's test site was an air drop at noon after bad weather had caused a four-and-a-half-hour delay.

It was an impressive piece of precision bombing as a B36 bomber from Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M., dropped the weapon through the only patch of blue sky visible in a windswept mass of clouds. Earlier in the day hail pelted Las Vegas and snow forced newsmen to abandon mountain observation posts.

The high noon shot itself, however, was not an impressive sight. Only a brief flash was visible to observers 30 miles away in the foothills behind the Army's Camp Desert Rock.

If there was any fireball, it was hidden by a range of low-lying mountains which encircle Yucca Flat. The noise of the detonation was very slight and there was no report of any heavy shock in the surrounding area.

A small mushroom which took on a pinkish color rose to a height of perhaps 25,000 feet in five minutes, but there was very little steam visible, indicating a moderately high burst.

The test organization did not immediately disclose the burst height, the elevation of the delivery plane.

The high winds aloft broke up the atomic cloud in less than half the usual time. After 15 minutes only a thin gray streak was to be seen and by 12:30 p.m. the entire cloud had virtually disintegrated.

The shot was watched by approximately 1,100 members of the armed forces from News Nob at least seven miles away. There were no troop maneuvers.

Official observers were headed by AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Gen. John A. Dahlquist, commanding general of the Army's Continental Command.

Test officials announced that the shot delay was increased by clouds over the target, necessitating three bombing runs before the successful delivery was made.

Radiation fallout from the atomic cloud, a principal concern of test officials, was inconsequential. A minor trace of fallout was reported about 20 miles south of the test site.

Opinions Differ On Lena Horne's Cancellation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP)—"What's this all about?" asked Jack Low, managing director of the Royal York Hotel, when told that Lena Horne had canceled a night club engagement here because, she said, the hotel had canceled her reservation. A New York paper had quoted her to that effect.

"Miss Horne never had a reservation here," said Low. "No reservation was ever asked by her or for her, there was never any discussion about a reservation, and since there wasn't a reservation there was no cancellation."

"Miss Horne makes the point that she is a Negro, Will, Don Newcombe, the Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher, is a Negro and he was here for a press luncheon yesterday. There were TV pictures of him in our cabana area."

Copa City, the swank night club where Miss Horne was to appear beginning Monday, agreed that the hotel wasn't involved.

186 Democrats, 109 Republicans Pass Trade Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower's tariff-cutting foreign trade program was pushed through the House late today with a big assist from its Democratic majority.

After a bitter, two-day fight, the bill was passed on a roll-call vote of 295-110.

But the back of the opposition, led in part by members of Eisenhower's own party, was broken when the House defeated by seven votes an amendment by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) which would have deprived the President of much of his power to override recommendations of the Tariff Commission for higher trade barriers.

In this key test of the legislation, the vote was 206-199. Reed's amendment was supported by 119 Republicans and 80 Democrats, but opposed by 140 Democrats and 66 Republicans.

Dulles Leaves For Bangkok Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles took off today for a Southeast Asia defense conference at Bangkok, Thailand, predicting that it will "make a real contribution toward the peace and security of the future."

Dulles and his top aides had with them a plan for coordinating military and economic defenses against Communist aggression or subversion.

This broad outline has been developed in working level meetings among representatives of eight nations which signed the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty at Manila last Sept. 8. The nations are the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines.

The Manila pact called for a council to consider a defense program. Hence Dulles, British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and their counterparts will negotiate a final plan during the three-day meeting which opens next Wednesday.

In a departure statement, Dulles predicted:

"Those who gather at Bangkok will be friends who have worked together in the past and I believe we shall be able then to make a real contribution toward the peace and security of the future."

Reed's amendment was opposed as a "cripping" and "devastating" addition to the bill, although it still would have permitted the President to override recommendations of the Tariff Commission when national security required it.

Supporters of the amendment said it was only a moderate change to increase protection for American industries against competing foreign imports.

Under rigid rules governing the debate, it was the only amendment which could be offered.

Eisenhower made a last minute appeal for support of the program in a "Dear Joe" letter to the minority leader, Joseph Martin (R-Mass). Martin read it to the House a few minutes before voting started.

The President said in the letter he was concerned to learn that some members of Congress "are not wholly familiar with my philosophy . . . and with my concept of the administration of this program." Then he added:

"Few programs will contribute more fundamentally to the long-term security of our country . . . This program will powerfully reinforce the military and economic strength of our own country and is of the greatest importance to the well-being of the free world. . . I deeply believe that the national interest calls for enactment of this measure."

As to protests that expanded imports would wreck competing American industries, Eisenhower said:

"Obviously it would ill serve our nation's interest to undermine American industry or to take steps which would lower the high wages received by our working men and women."

Suspected Killer Evades Three Police Traps: Believed Armed With Guns Taken From Cops

Gov. Leader Proclaims Feb. 25 As World Day Of Prayer In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG — Gov. George M. Leader has proclaimed Feb. 25 as World Day of Prayer. The observance is sponsored by the Department of United Church Women of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches in cooperation with the National Council of Churches.

In his proclamation the Governor said that "World Day of Prayer will be observed this year as during the recent past in many places throughout the world as a token of mankind's dependence upon Divine Providence."

He continued: "In these days of international crises and spiritual disturbance where the brotherhood of human dignity and the moral privilege of freedom are in jeopardy, the troubled people of the nations of this globe need the insight of Divine guidance and in the forms of their consciences and in the decisions of their public representatives."

Mrs. Donald T. The money goes to support home and foreign mission projects and churches.

Department of United Church Women represents the cooperative work of the 19 major Protestant denominations with a constituency of more than three million members.

Sunday School Lesson

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL
WHAT IS A sacrament? To the smaller children the word probably means nothing. However, it may be explained to them in very simple language.

A sacrament is one of the religious ceremonies in Christian churches, as instituted or recognized by Christ. The word comes from the Latin Sacramentum; from Sacra, in English, sacred. It is therefore a sacred rite of the church.

Christian parents have their infants baptized. For older persons the ceremony may be performed after they repent of their sins and acknowledge Christ as their Savior. The ceremony then means that those baptized are forgiven and enter a new life in Jesus Christ.

Before He began His ministry Jesus went to John the Baptist and asked to be baptized. John objected because our Lord had no sins to wash away, but Jesus insisted, saying, "Thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness."

"And Jesus, when He was baptized, went up straightway out of the water; and lo, the heavens were opened unto Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon Him; and a voice from heaven, saying, This is My Beloved Son, in Whom I am well pleased."

Another great sacrament is the Lord's Supper, so-called in memory of the night before Jesus' betrayal and death. He and His disciples were gathered together to observe the Passover. Jesus knew it was the last time He would be with them until His Resurrection, but apparently the disciples did not realize what was so clear to Him.

Jesus took the bread, blessed and broke it, and handed it to His companions, saying, "Take, eat; this is My body." Then He took the cup of wine, offered thanks, and gave it to them, saying, "Drink ye all of it; for this is My blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins."

The manner in which baptism and the Lord's Supper are ministered in different Christian denominations is not a matter that needs discussion in our lesson.

In Paul's letter to the Corinthians he quotes Luke 22:19, when Christ said "this do in remembrance of Me." In remembrance of Christ! How many of us think of Jesus and meditate on what He means to us and what we can do

Methodists To Hear Talk On Washington

AT THE Mountainhome Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, will present the second in a series of sermons on "Great Lives and Their Christian Influence," the subject this week being George Washington.

This series has covered the lives of other great men whose lives days occur in the month of February, notably Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Edison.

The recently reorganized Men's Bible Class of the Mountainhome Church meets at the same hour as the Sunday School, but, because of the crowded conditions of the church and Sunday School, the Men's Class meets in the Barrett Branch YMCA. The class is studying the history of the Bible, from the earliest manuscripts down to the time of its translation into the English language. All men of the community are invited to join this group at 9:30 each Sunday morning.

Dedication Sunday Set For Sunday

SUNDAY in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church is to be known as "Dedication Sunday." The Morning Worship at 11 will be the occasion upon which the year's objectives will be presented.

The Pastor, Rev. Harold E. Eaton, will preach on "Let Your Light Shine." The Sermon is a continuation of his recent messages taken from the sermon on the mount. The theme text is "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your father which is in heaven."

Under the direction of Miss Jean Maxwell, the church, the youth and the altar choir will sing. Participating in the service will be more than 100 officials, Sunday School Teachers and Laymen, who in the afternoon, will cooperate in a church wide "every member canvass," endeavoring in the period between 2 and 4:30 p. m. to reach every local member. Immediately following the morning service, the men cooperating in the visitation will meet in the dining room of the church for assignments.

Beginning Sunday an ardent endeavor is to be made to raise the Sunday School Attendance during the entire Lenten season to an average of more than 600. Special plans for achieving this goal were discussed in the last monthly meeting of the church school council of workers.

At 6:30 p. m. the intermediate and senior Youth Fellowship will meet separately for worship and discussion on some vital problems facing young people today. Special attention is to be given to the forthcoming north district conference which is to be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church on Feb. 25, 26, and 27.

At 7:30 p. m. a special service to which an outstanding group of men have been invited, will be held. A male chorus consisting of members of the Altar Choir and others will sing. The sermon by the Pastor is the "Creed of an American." At 8:30 p. m. the By-kota fellowship will meet—discussion will be held on the meaning of Lent. Refreshments will be served by the W. S. C. S.

Flowers are presented by Verna and Raymond Mansfield in memory of their Father. Ladies in charge of the kindergarten will be Mrs. Earl Bush, Mrs. Milton Possinger and Mrs. Donald Poorman.

Shells and Souls

With encouragement from his parents and some fundamental scientific training this young man has learned a great deal about shells. He knows, for instance, that the ocean floor is covered with millions of living creatures which would be unable to survive without the protection of the shells in which they live.

With similar encouragement from his parents, and with some fundamental religious training, this young man will learn some far more useful truths about souls. He will learn, for instance, that God's highest creature—Man—lives in a moral environment just as hostile to his survival as that ocean floor, and that Man depends for his protection not on any outer armor, but on the inner being which God has taught him to call his soul.

And when our young man compares shells and souls he will discover that, just as God provides many of his lesser creatures with the means of building up and strengthening their shells, he provides Man with the Church, the Bible, and the Gift of Prayer to enable him to strengthen his soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Never Underestimate

Sound the drum and beat the cymbals for the young woman who drives an automobile for today she is the most honored among all those who carry a license to control a motor vehicle.

Because the woman driver, so often denounced by the male, has turned out to be a better safety risk than her male counterpart, so much so that automobile liability insurance rates have been reduced in certain classifications throughout a total of 39 states.

Recognition has been given to the fact that the family car is a less hazardous risk when the youthful drivers are of the distaff side than when the hot-rod males take the wheel.

This information is not going to be received with acclaim by the young men of our land who, with few exceptions, are sublimely confident that no one, but no one can be more skillful in negotiating a modern motor car through the day's traffic than they.

But the statistics must stand, and whether we are willing to admit their truth freely or whether we want to argue the point, the result of lowered insurance rates in so many states must be given the attention it deserves.

Westward Ho!

Decision to hold the 1956 Republican National Convention in San Francisco, announced this week, is a startling and certainly most interesting development in the political planning for next year, and will provide an absorbing topic of conversation for days to come.

Before the committee reached its point of agreement, there was a deal of comment about Chicago and Philadelphia, with both cities looking steadfastly down their noses at any other possible convention site, while each professed enthusiastic approval of the mid-August date for the beginning of the program.

So now it is "Westward Ho!" for all the GOP faithful who can see nothing wrong with exploring the great open spaces of the West, and especially the possibilities inherent in utilizing the "Top of the Mark" as a proper point of vantage from which to survey the busy scene.

Now if the several states accustomed to choose their presidential electors in early summer will mend their ways, there is every reason to look forward to a later date for the Democratic convention than the one tentatively announced.

In any case, it is well to observe that in this day of modern communications and transportation, both of fast accomplishment, the duration of the big national campaigns will be materially shortened, with consequent diminution of the strain on both pocketbook and blood pressure.

Public Servant

Possibly the truest measure of Herbert Hoover's record of service to his country is that his country has begun to take this service for granted.

Another Hoover report—this time on the Civil Service—was issued the other day. As usual, it was the fruit of long and careful study, and it was presented with the lucidity that so often marks Herbert Hoover's observations about this Government.

Mr. Hoover now is 80—and has spent almost half his lifetime serving his country. The country would still owe him a big debt of gratitude if he had closed that career of service after feeding Europe during World War I. But he went on to become Secretary of Commerce and then President during one of the most frustrating periods ever visited on an occupant of the White House.

Now, at an age when most men feel they have earned the right to slipped retirement, Herbert Hoover still serves.

George Sokolsky Says...

Taft-Hartley Law Stabilized Procedure Of Unions And They Did Well Under It

There was a time in the middle 1930's when it was possible to argue over the future of trade unionism in the United States. In the middle 1950's, that is no longer a moot question.

The strong, well-financed, politically powerful trade union has become a norm of American life. About one-quarter of the American labor force, 15,000,000 workers, belongs either to A.F. of L. or C.I.O. unions. To argue that these members are coerced into paying dues and striking against their will is to raise an unsolvable issue.

There has been no demand on the part of any group of workers that unions be abolished.

The new A. F. of L.-C. I. O. will not only represent an enormous several billion dollars of reserves, concentration of manpower but much of which is being invested in common stocks, often in the particular industry which the union serves.

No matter what has been said of the Taft-Hartley Law, it has run from the 80th Congress to the 84th without change or amendment and has strengthened the unions. The history of trade unionism in the United States will show that the Wagner Law gave the unions a tremendous impetus, the Taft-Hartley Law stabilized union procedure, and while in the political strategy of unionism it was felt necessary to denounce Taft-Hartley, the reason it was not abandoned has been that the unions did very well under it. They have become enormously rich and if their wealth increases at the present pace, it will not be long before they come into possession of many industries, not by a Socialist revolution but by the normal capitalist process of buying the shares of companies on the Stock Exchange.

The new national labor organization will be more powerful than either international union was during the period of competition between them. But with power must come responsibility. The agreement was correct in excluding racketeers and subversives, but that is not good enough. The racketeers need to be excluded actually and physically. All labor leaders know who they are and what unions they have invaded and which they control.

Similarly, the trade union leaders know who the Communists are and they do not strengthen public confidence by permitting unions expelled for having been led by subversives to return to American trade unionism by the back door of amalgamation with decent unions. That can only mean an open door for infiltration.

That many unions are accepting their responsibilities seriously is apparent in the publication of annual reports. But the democratic method of choosing union leadership is still to be hoped for an will undoubtedly come as the unions become more stabilized and businesslike. It is one thing to manage a union that is struggling for its existence; it is another to run a union whose business operations involve several hundred million dollars - and the members know as much arithmetic as the leaders.

The criticism of the labor union therefore shifts from theorizing as to whether they should exist at all to objections to racketeering, subversion and unstable practices. The course fixed in the middle 1930's of a recognized American type of trade unionism regulated by Act of Congress and supervised by the National Labor Relations Board is now fixed in the American industrial system. The remaining independent unions are not very different from A. F. of L.-C. I. O. unions and often are as great a trial to management. No large industry in the United States is without some type of union organization.

The fear of the merger then is unrelated to the industrial use of manpower and cash for political manipulation. While tight limitations are placed on political contributions of corporations and individuals, practically none are placed on the trade union or their related organizations. They could corrupt the entire electoral process with their abundant tax-free dollars if they so choose. Furthermore, they could develop a class-conscious political system which might be modeled after the British Labour Party or become affiliated with international communism.

This fear could not have existed in the era of Samuel Gompers; it merits thought and study these days when a doctrinaire Socialist, such as Walter Reuther, is may be the effective leader of 15,000,000 men. It is not altogether impossible that by 1960, this may be the prevailing issue in a Presidential campaign.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Hot Toddy Mike Todd is doing Tolstoy's "War and Peace" in Yugoslavia and has persuaded Tito to lend him his armies.

This is the first time a nation has fallen for the "I can get you into pictures" proposition... If Yugoslavia makes good, there is no telling how many countries may go Hollywood... It is quite a trick to locate a country not using its army these days, and it could get both Todd and Tito the Nobel Peace Award.

Todd would make a better movie than Tolstoy... There is drama in him... Mike first got into prominence in New York when he showed up at the Flushing World Fair with a minor midway attraction, some 15 years ago... But few of the exposition attractions or figures went farther faster...

Looking back on it we can remember only Todd, the Trolley, the Periscope and the Futurama, with Todd out ahead... No sooner had the World Fair closed than Mike, who had come east from California, jumped in to the Broadway picture and was put in a musical called "Star and Garter," following it swiftly with other hits both in the musical and dramatic fields... He was a colorful likeable youth who made and lost fortunes, doing both with a smile... There was never any telling what Mike would do next, which was to see instantly the possibilities of 3-D pictures and get the patents on a system called the "Todd-AO," chosen above all others for the Hollywood version of "Oklahoma."... Mike has refused millions for his rights.

Tito's armies will get the Todd-AO treatment, too and we think the Rockefeller may yet be borrowing money from him, is still a pretty young man, with the looks and gusto of a college freshman... People have asked why he isn't doing the great Russian drama in Russia and Mike answers, with a Toddian smile, "Because it will mean a seven-million-dollar investment and I want to be sure I GET THE FILMS OUT of the country..." He is too smart to take an outside chance that the Soviet rulers might claim to have invented the movies, invented Todd-AO and even invented Todd, holding all three for ransom... There's no limit to the man's cleverness and we think he could even borrow an Irish Army to do a picture called "Churchill's Escape From Pretoria"... Joe Smoot, who died penniless at Las Vegas this week, first caught the dream of a big-league race track at Miami and created Hialeah... He was away ahead of his time... It is a sad commentary on Brotherhood Week that a good many people are so busy with atomic bomb experiments that they can't participate... "He isn't here," was said so often during the nominations of the Hollywood National Academy of Awards telecast that the program could have been billed as the Missing Persons Hour.

'D' FOR DEPARTMENT

Are U. S. Transport Plans For Paratroopers Adequate?

Washington — The House armed services committee is taking an unusually close look at the Defense department's policies not only on military manpower cuts but in the increasingly important matter of transport aircraft.

Some members of the committee have been told that if swift, major action by United States airborne troops should be necessary, the planes to carry the fighting men to the scene of operations would not be available. One legislator insists that the "ready" line would provide hardly enough planes to transport a full-strength paratroop battalion.

The Democrats, desperately seeking issues on which they can legitimately challenge the Eisenhower administration, plan to put the Pentagon brass on the spot, in public, so the nation can judge for itself whether all the slashes in defense spending are justified.

Armed services committee point out that in any conceivable sudden conflict, paratroops would be indeed the country's first line of defense and that plenty of air transportation ought to be available for them.

TV Technique — President Eisenhower, his aides and the television industry itself are all highly pleased with the way the first directly-filmed presidential news conference went off. The first "show" at which newscasters and TV cameramen were able to record the question-and-answer give-and-take between the chief executive and Washington newsmen was remarkably smooth and no major changes in the procedure are anticipated.

The biggest complaint—and virtually the only one—was that some of the questions put by newsmen couldn't be picked up by the camera sound equipment and it has been suggested that an overhead microphone on a swinging boom be employed. There is little likelihood that this suggestion will be adopted.

Fear that a few Washington characters might try to monopolize the conference or "ham it up" is abating. Inasmuch as the White House itself can deny release of any portions of the news conference film, a little judicious editing would take care of any would-be "mugger" in the audience.

Coffee Prices — Coffee "future" prices are not expected to soar upward this year as they did in 1954. According to the Senate banking subcommittee which investigated last year's jump in prices, there's a growing surplus of coffee which should keep the brew at present price levels for the next three years.

The subcommittee does not go along with the Federal Trade commission's recommendations that the New York Coffee and Sugar exchange be placed under government control.

It was the FTC's contention that irregularities in trading practices on the New York exchange "contributed significantly to the spiraling rise in coffee prices."

However, the subcommittee held that coffee prices should be "determined by the factors of supply and demand in a free economy" and found no fault with the exchange.

John O'Hara, distinguished author of "A Rage to Live" and "Farmers Hotel," rallying to the defense of television, tells of a friend whose sprawling household includes children by his first marriage, children by his present wife, and step-children whom his wife brought with her. There are, roughly, ten children in all.

"Before we bought a TV set," this friend assured O'Hara, "this place used to be a madhouse. Kids all over the house. But then we installed the set in our cellar. Now the kids spend their lives there."

"Once a week we throw them a couple of fish heads and everybody's happy."

Robert S. Allen Reports

New Effort Being Made To Control Pentagon Remarks

Optimistic — A new effort is being made to prevent Pentagon officials from putting their foot in their mouth.

White House as a member of President Eisenhower's personal staff.

Under the title of "Department of Defense Instruction," Seaton sent a personally-signed directive to all Pentagon authorities, reading in part as follows:

"To insure military security and to keep the American public informed within the limits of security, all testimony before congressional committees must be submitted for review and clearance prior to publication. Written statements and charts prepared in advance for open session delivery should be submitted for security review as far as possible in advance of scheduled presentation under existing procedures. Oral statements and testimony given in closed sessions will be reviewed, in transcript or galley form, prior to publication."

When a friend asked the former Nebraska Senator what he thought of the chances of succeeding with this plan, he laughingly replied, "Well, while there's life there's hope."

Sparks—The House Rules Committee has quietly bottled up the "Federal Voting Assistance" bill that was unanimously approved by the House Administration Committee. A bi-partisan bloc, headed by Representative Howard Smith, Va., chairman of the Rules Committee, is demanding elimination of an anti-poll tax provision. The opponents are insisting the Administration Committee rewrite the bill to suit their views. The chances are strong they will have their way, because otherwise the measure will be pigeonholed.

Former Senator Guy Gillette (D-Ia) is getting a dose of his own medicine. Several years ago he blocked appointment of an Iowa Democrat to an important job because of "personal objections." It is an unwritten Senate rule to refuse confirmation to appointees whom a senator opposes on personal grounds. Now lame-duck Gillette is getting the same treatment from Iowa's two Republican Senators, Bourke Hickenlooper and Thomas Martin, who defeated Gillette last year. The White House has indicated willingness to name Gillette as the Democratic member of the Home Loan Bank Board, at $15,000 a year. But Hickenlooper and Martin have served notice that they will raise personal objections if Gillette's name is sent to the Senate. So he is out in the cold.

Bulletins — More than half of Congress has signified intention to witness one of the atomic tests on the great firing range in Nevada. Senator Clinton Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Joint Atomic Committee, has received more than 200 acceptances to his invitation to the legislators. They will be flown to the proving ground by the Military Air Transport Service (MATS). Senator Alan Bible (D-Nev) is being credited with secretly inducing his state Legislature to pass a law for a 90-day moratorium on new gaming licenses. Politics are saying that Bible, who succeeded the late Senator Pat McCarran, sent out warning that unless this measure was adopted, Congress would take drastic action against gambling. So far, however, there's no sign of that in Congress.

Sparks — Friends of Adlai Stevenson are crediting him with a new political ambition. They say he may shift from the presidency to the senate, and run against Senator Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) next year. Stevenson's friends are quoting him as saying, during his recent Washington visit, "The more I see of the Senate, the better I like it."

The Air Force has a plan under which its regular officer strength would be increased 25 per cent, by adding more than 7,000 officers. The expansion is deemed necessary to keep up with the growth of the Air Force. The Navy is considering creating two new ratings—special weaponsman and nuclear propulsionman. The 15th national convention of the Townsend Plan Clubs of America will be held in St. Petersburg, Fla., on May 24.

Olits — Representative Francis Walter (D-Pa), next chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, is telling colleagues he plans a sweeping house-cleaning of its staff. Walter is indicating he intends to keep only a few of the large group now on the Committee's payroll. Although the late Justice Robert Jackson died several months ago, he is still listed in the Congressional Record (December 2 issue) as a member of the Supreme Court. His successor, Judge John Marshall Harlan, who is awaiting Senate confirmation, attended last week's White House reception for the judiciary.

It would appear that Federal aid to schools merited as it surely is should be approached with more than usual caution, especially in the view of the fact that government's own survey is already effectively challenged.

Federal Assistance To Schools

—by H. G. Heller

Back of President Eisenhower's recent special message to Congress dealing with education is a survey-report by the U. S. Office of Education dealing with school facilities on a nation-wide basis.

Issued prior to the opening of the 84th Congress, this report has been a careful study of the statistics by state and taxpayer groups which have resulted in a wave of critical questions regarding the Federal survey findings.

The 81st Congress allocated $3 millions to pay half the cost of the survey—with the aid of state educational officials and through matching state payments. The "first phase" of the study was aimed at determining what was needed in the way of additions or renovations to school plants throughout the country.

The Office survey asserts the sum of $106 billion would be needed to have the schools of the country "catch up" with their construction needs. In addition, the survey asserts that its figures show the state—as of two years ago—were in no financial position to spend anything like that sum.

The claim was made as of two years ago the states lacked something like $4.7 billion of having the funds necessary to meet the envisioned program.

Some of the states, however, through their taxpayer groups, have taken a stand in opposition to the claimed needs, declaring that they have ample resources, and do not need any such Federal Assistance as the survey would indicate.

Prior to the Presidential message on education some 20 measures were introduced in the current session authorizing Federal grants for school construction over five or six years at an annual rate of $1 billion.

Here are some of the "spot check" objections to survey findings as compiled by National Conference of State Taxpayer Executives:

Federal survey rated Santa Fe's new $675,000 high school "unsatisfactory" because it had a size of "only 9.3 acres rather than the recommended ten acres." In Connecticut unused borrowing capacity of that state's municipalities totalled more than $200 million—about double the amount listed by the Federal survey. Ohio found the survey so grossly inaccurate they are disregarding it completely.

It would appear that Federal aid to schools merited as it surely is should be approached with more than usual caution, especially in the view of the fact that government's own survey is already effectively challenged.

East Stroudsburg PTA Calls Public Discussion Of Jointure

Name Sebring Chief Speaker Monday Night

EAST STROUDSBURG PTA will hold a discussion of the proposed six-district school jointure Monday night.

As proposed, the jointure would include East Stroudsburg, Smithfield, Middle Smithfield, Price, Porters and Lehman Townships, the latter two in Pike County. It is under consideration by the six boards at present.

For Monday night's meeting, in the auditorium of the Junior High School, Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, will be the main speaker.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. A short business meeting will be held before the program begins.

Plans for the Monday night meeting were drawn up at a regular PTA meeting last month. Ten groups were designated from the full membership to make out lists of questions they felt were important enough to require full answers.

These lists were, in turn, studied by the executive committee. Questions which were repetitions were weeded out. When the process was finished the number of questions had been lowered to 40.

Meanwhile, David Miller, program chairman, contacted Sebring with a request that the assistant superintendent come to the meeting. Sebring agreed.

Most of the questions will be directed to Sebring for discussion and answers, Miller said.

Elston Arnt, PTA president, terms this "one of the most important meetings the organization has planned."

"Many people do not understand the advantages derived from larger school districts," Arnt said.

Cramer Firm Obtains Land In Township

THE R. C. CRAMER Lumber Co., East Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. William Post, Pocono Township, have completed a trade of lands, according to deeds recorded at the county courthouse yesterday.

The lumber company acquired five acres of land on the road from the Tannersville Inn to Cherry Lane in Pocono Township. A company spokesman said no definite plans had been made for the new area as yet. The property obtained by Mr. and Mrs. Post is located at Mount Pocono.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Strunk, Stroudsburg, purchased a tract of land in Stroud Township from Mr. and Mrs. Asher Fritz and Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Fritz. The land is on the north side of Fritz Ave. A Pocono Township property was sold by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Ottmans of that sector to May Strickland, Long Island, N. Y. Mrs. Strickland is the mother of Mrs. Ottmans.

Vanderbilt Must Pay His Fifth Wife $250 Weekly

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—A court today ordered Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., 56, writer and traveler, to pay $250 weekly to his divorced fifth wife, Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, 35. She had asked $2,655 a month.

State Supreme Court Justice S. Samuel di Falco also ordered Vanderbilt to pay $3,500 for counsel fees.

di Falco said his ruling apparently was the first test of a 1953 New York state law permitting a wife to receive separate maintenance and support even though the husband obtained a valid out-of-state divorce.

Vanderbilt had obtained a Nevada divorce on June 30, 1953. The state law was adopted in April, 1953.

Stabenows Settle Case For $1,800

MR. AND MRS. Georg Stabenow and daughter Karen, a minor, 125 Ananook St., East Stroudsburg, were awarded $1,800 in the settlement of an accident case yesterday. Judge Fred W. Davis presided at the court hearing.

The amount allowed included $1,500 to the parents as natural guardians and $300 for future dental services of the child.

Miss Stabenow suffered injuries as a passenger in a car, owned and operated by Rosemary Graff McMahon, 61 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, when it collided with a parked car Aug. 24, 1954. The accident occurred on Prospect St., East Stroudsburg. The parked car was owned by Leroy Tucker.

The Stabenow child had two permanent teeth knocked out, suffered lacerations of the chin, a fractured jaw and sprained left hand in the collision.

Atty. Detlef Hansen represented the Stabenows, while Atty. J. Joseph McCluskey appeared in behalf of the defendant.

Educators Rap. Proposed Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee studying President Eisenhower's school-building program was told today that chief education officers in 31 of 33 states polled were utterly opposed to most or all of the bill.

Dr. Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, read into the record a blast of criticism he said he had received by telephone, teletype and letter from the 31 state educational chiefs. Officials of the other two states—Nebraska and Indiana—reported they were against federal aid to education on principle and that it states exerted themselves sufficiently it would not be needed.

A Missouri official called the program "totally inadequate" while a Montanan called it "utterly useless" to most states.

But Sen. Allott (R-Colo.), a member of the committee studying the President's program, drew from Dr. Fuller an acknowledgment that the replies did not necessarily reflect the view of state governors or state legislatures.

Fuller himself had some harsh words for Eisenhower's program. He said, for one thing, that the federal government "will eventually make a profit at the expense of the school districts of the country most in need" because of what he called high interest rates on the federal loans.

His organization favors a direct federal aid program as the only method of attacking an existing classroom shortage estimated at more than 300,000.

Veterinarians Needed By C.D.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Veterinarians are being mobilized to help treat human victims of any atomic attack on American cities.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration announced today that animal doctors would be urgently needed in a national emergency and should be prepared to help. "At civil defense first aid stations," the administration said, "veterinarians, under a physician's supervision, will be expected to treat shock, burn and surgical casualties, splint fractures and assist in the care of radiation casualties."

Care Children's Books Fund Drive Launched In Schools

NEXT WEEK WILL seem a little like "nickel week" to Stroudsburg school children.

The pupils are being asked to take part in a PTA-sponsored Care Children's Book Fund Drive. The project is designed to provide funds for shipment of books to children in foreign countries.

The books are intended to give foreign children a better idea of what America is really like and a working knowledge of the English language.

Janet Bender is chairman of the overall project for the PTA by appointment of Mrs. Roger Stinson, PTA president. Assisting in the project are Mrs. Arthur Hft, children's librarian at Monroe County Library; Hilda Smith at Ramsey School and Gladys Woltjen at Morey School.

The Care book program is the only international project being undertaken this year by the National Parent-Teachers Association. It is arranged and supervised by the regular Care organization which is world-famed for its shipment of food to the needy in foreign lands.

Price of the book shipments is $10 per unit package. A complete bookshelf unit can be sent for $50, Miss Bender said.

The local organization picks the place to which its book shipment should be sent. To finance the project, Miss Bender said students have been asked to bring five cents—"at least one nickel, and more if they want to"—to the school during the week.

Nine Men Face Draft March 3

NINE MONROE County men will be called for induction into the Army by Selective Service from Local Board 105, Stroudsburg, March 3. The group will report at the Wilkes-Barre Main Recruiting Station.

A total of 17 men will be called from Northampton County and report to Philadelphia March 1, while six others from the Doylestown Board will report for induction at the Philadelphia station March 2.

A Missouri official called the program "totally inadequate" while a Montanan called it "utterly useless" to most states.

But Sen. Allott (R-Colo.), a member of the committee studying the President's program, drew from Dr. Fuller an acknowledgment that the replies did not necessarily reflect the view of state governors or state legislatures.

Fine To Draw Pension Of $468 Monthly

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18 (AP)—Former Gov. John S. Fine today sacrificed more than half of $1,000 in monthly retirement pay to provide for lifetime pensions for his teenage sons after his death.

Under a plan approved by the State Employees' Retirement Board the 62-year-old ex-governor will get $468 a month for life.

After his death, the two sons—Jack, 14, and Donald, 12, both students at Valley Forge Military Academy—will each receive $234 a month for their lifetime.

Their mother died three months after Fine took office in 1951. Fine's payments into the state retirement fund cover a period of more than 25 years, most of them on the bench of either the State Superior Court or Luzerne County Common Pleas Court.

The board approved a host of other pensions for Republicans who resigned or were ousted with the inauguration of Democratic Gov. George M. Leader a month ago today.

Receiving pensions (with title of last state post, amount of pension and years of state service listed in that order) were:

Dr. Francis B. Hans, 71, superintendent of public instruction, $881.56, 48 years; Otto F. Messner, 60, revenue secretary, $613.49, 40 years; W. S. Hagar, 63, agriculture secretary, $512.17, 32 years; Gene D. Smith, 47, secretary of the Commonwealth, $127.45, 15 years; Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, 62, public assistance secretary, $100.4 years; Dr. Edward B. Logan, 57, budget secretary, $297.13, 20 years. A $195.00 monthly pension was voted for former Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, defeated last year as the Republican candidate for governor. Ironically, Wood's election defeat gave him a higher retirement allowance.

Under the law, a defeated candidate is considered to have been fired from state office and therefore eligible for increased benefits. Seven former legislators, most of them defeated in reelection bids last year, also received retirement allowances. They include:

Sens. A. H. Letzler, 71, (R—Clearfield), $90.20, 16 years; former Reps. Ellis C. Ferster, 65, (R—Snyder), $52.62, six years; Wrayburn B. Hall, 67, (R—Potter), $128.33, 25 years; Charles R. Reagan, 75, (R—Union), 16 years.

Bachelor Reserve Unit Being Formed Here

LOS ALAMOS, N.M., Feb. 18 (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents early today arrested a bachelor pediatrician at this atomic city in New Mexico on charges of transportation of girls, aged 9 and 10, for immoral purposes.

Dr. Malcolm McDonald Cook, 48, was charged with three counts of the Mann (white slave) Act.

He is accused of taking the girls to Arizona and Colorado in his private plane.

D. A. Bryce, special agent in charge of the New Mexico FBI, said the doctor, a native of Thomasville, Ga., is held in the Los Alamos jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Bryce said the complaint charges the former St. Louis doctor with transportation of a female minor, age 10, from Los Alamos to Alamosa, Colo., then to Durango, Colo., for immoral purposes Sept. 26, 1953; with taking the same girl to Grand Canyon, Ariz., on Oct. 17, 1953; and with taking a 9-year-old girl to Grand Canyon July 11, 1953.

Public Protection Against Radioactive Fallout From H-Bombs To Be Discussed

THREE SPECIAL MEETINGS of county and local Civil Defense directors throughout Pennsylvania have been called for by the State Council of Civil Defense.

These important sessions were deemed necessary following the Atomic Energy Commission's recent announcement concerning the dangers of radioactive fallout from hydrogen bombs.

Monroe County CD leaders will participate in the eastern area gathering scheduled for March 14 at Quakertown. Directors from the western and central sectors will have similar meetings.

Primary purpose of these meetings is to outline the state plan and program protection against the unique hazards of thermonuclear warfare.

Dr. Richard Gerstell, State director of Civil Defense, announced the State council began its preparations for defense against the possible use of hydrogen bombs in early 1954. He called the densely populated and critical industry areas in the eastern and western portions of the Commonwealth direct targets for H-bombs. Gerstell is a recognized authority on radioactivity.

Effective defense against radioactive fallout is largely an individual problem, according to the state director.

"Every Pennsylvanian interested in saving his, or her, skin must take the trouble to learn the basic facts of survival," stated Gerstell. He added: "Everyone must be ready to hole up or move out should the occasion arise." He explained it is often possible to escape the dangers of lingering radiation either by moving some 25 miles or else seeking shelter in basements, where about 90 per cent protection from fallout is assured.

The State Council's plans for the procurement of specialized equipment required for the detection of radiation hazards and the training of individuals in the use of this equipment will be announced at the special March meetings.

Social Welfare Division Set Up: Secretary Named

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18 (AP)—Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro today appointed Norman V. Lourie, Philadelphia, as his executive deputy secretary to head a new social welfare division in the department.

Lourie, who will receive $13,000 a year, was sworn in immediately by James A. Finnegan, secretary of the Commonwealth.

Shapiro said creation of the social welfare division is part of a reorganization plan which will include establishment also of two other divisions—mental health and executive.

None of the changes, he said, will require any legislative action.

State C. D. Ready To Buy Instruments

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18 (AP)—Pennsylvania stands ready today to spend $150,000 if necessary to supply its civil defense personnel with radiological instruments to measure deadly radioactive ashes that accompany a hydrogen bomb blast.

However, the necessary instruments to measure the intensity and deadlines of the ashes might cost the state Civil Defense Council only $75,000 or might even be supplied free by the federal government.

"We figure it will cost about $150,000 to purchase the three types of instruments necessary to set up the program," said Dr. Richard Gerstell, State Civil Defense director.

"However, it looks pretty certain that we will get the equipment on a matching funds arrangement with the federal government meaning it will cost us only $75,000," he explained, adding:

"Still another possibility is that the federal government will adopt a proposed program to supply the instruments free on a nation-wide basis.

"This possibility is a bit improbable though."

Woman Tells Rotarians Of Club Project

MOUNTAINHOME — Rotary is generally thought of as an all-male organization, but at the meeting of the Rotary Club of the Pocono Mountains, held at Onawa Lodge this week, the speaker was a woman, Mrs. Harold N. MacMurray, who presented the project of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs for the current year.

This project is the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, located in Philadelphia, and the only medical school in the Western Hemisphere from which only women are trained and graduated to be physicians and surgeons.

Mrs. MacMurray reviewed the history of the college, and the struggle that women endured, in order to break down the prejudice against the admission of women into the profession.

She related many interesting incidents about the young Quaker woman, Ann Preston, who organized the school, and graduated in its first class, and then became the first woman dean of a medical college.

Mrs. MacMurray also described the contributions made by many of the graduates of this college, and their benefits to the world.

Among the outstanding graduates of an older day is to be found Dr. Clara Swaine, the first woman medical missionary in the world, and the founder of the first hospital in India.

Other hospitals were founded by graduates of this college in places as far distant as China, South America and on the West Coast of our own country, where a Woman's Hospital was organized in San Francisco by Dr. Clara Blake Brown.

Among the present-day illustrious alumni of the college are Dr. Ellen C. Potter and Dr. Catherine MacFarlane, who has been awarded the "Distinguished Daughter of Pennsylvania" medal and many other awards for her work in the field of cancer prevention.

Mrs. MacMurray is a member of the Commonwealth Committee of the Woman's Medical College, the purpose of which is to spread information concerning the college throughout the State.

C. Of C. Warns Of Promotion

A "BUSINESS ALERT" was issued yesterday by the local Chamber of Commerce concerning the use of coupon books in retail trade promotions.

According to Harold Swenson, executive secretary, "Some of these promotions, using a coupon type book of values, which is sold by the promoters, have backfired on the retailers participating in the plan."

This usually happens from the fact that more books are sold than originally planned and the retailer or service operator is literally swamped with free work to perform or merchandise to give away.

Reports have been filed in the chamber office during the past few days indicating that such a scheme is currently being promoted in the Stroudsburg area. Swenson urged members and non-members alike, who desire further information on the subject, to contact the chamber's office.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Palmerton's 98 points against Stroudsburg on Tuesday night was a record—a bit of information that will come as a surprise to nobody. The 98 points bettered by four the previous high set during the 1951-1952 campaign. Oddly enough Fred Oravec, older brother of Jim, was a member of the 1950-1951 contingent. On Tuesday the younger Oravec scored 24 points in the rout of Stroudsburg. He made good on 11 of 19 shots from the floor and two of four tosses from the foul line against the Mountaineers.

Fred Oravec tallied 43 points as Palmerton scored 94 points against Northampton for the former record. Bob Mikvy, sophomore brother of the famed Bill Mikvy, tallied 29 points to lead the attack against the Mountaineers on Tuesday. The undefeated Bombers hit on the unbelievable total of 65 per cent of their shots to turn Stroudsburg into their 21st straight basketball victim of the current season.

The 21 straight victories not only equaled a Palmerton High record, but it also tied the Carbon County-Panzer Valley mark. The old record had stood seven years. Fountain Hill, first high champion of the Lehigh-Northampton League, set a new scoring mark while rolling to a 97-50 verdict over Bangor. The old record of 92 counters was set by the Hillers against Pen Argyl last season. Cataqua defeated Lehigh on Tuesday. The score was 76-63.

Catty has won 54 of 63 games played with Lehigh over a period of 32 years. Prior to Wednesday night's basketball game between Muhlenberg and Lafayette Denny Roth, former Lehigh star, was the number three point producer on the Muhlenberg squad. The big center had played in 17 games, registered 84 field goals, converted 33 of 48 foul shots and totaled 201 points. His average was 11.8 per game. Bobby Gall, former Bethlehem High star, led the Mules with 327 points and an average of 20.4 per contest.

Jerry Fritz, former Stroudsburg basketball star and a member of the Saylor's entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, wrote from Fulton, Ohio, where he and his wife are now living. Fritz, who graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in January, expects to enter the Army next month or in April. Jerry forwarded this column a copy of the Columbus, Ohio, American Association roster.

The roster features the name of Ray Steele, former out-standing basketball and baseball star at East Stroudsburg High; Jerry Labanz, a right handed pitcher who made his mark in Emmaus American Legion baseball; Jack Wallaers, former shortstop with the A's and an outfielder with the Chicago White Sox, is listed on the Columbus roster as a first baseman. The Easton resident was recently purchased from Buffalo, of the International League.

Both the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High School basketball squads were well represented at Wednesday's cage clash between East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and Panzer. Coach Dick Forster, East Stroudsburg, and Ed "Jake" Palmer, Pen Argyl cage mentor, were among the large crowd of spectators in the Normal Hill gym. Palmer formerly starred for the ESSTC quintet, while Forster is a former member of the Panzer coaching staff.

The 88-81 licking handed Panzer by ESSTC on Wednesday may have knocked the former out of an NAIB tournament bid from Kansas City. Panzer's record is still plenty good as it consists of 16 victories and only three setbacks. Prior to Wednesday's clash colorful coach Les Goodwin and the remainder of the Panzer contingent was awaiting an NAIB bid. Now the situation is doubtful, Panzer recently won the New Jersey Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship.

It is this scribe's opinion that the drill which finds all the tall Panzer players leaping high into the air and slamming the ball down into the cords is supposed to frighten the opposition—much like the Yankees used to do to American League foes in batting practice. The only thing wrong with Wednesday's setup was the fact that the ESSTC players didn't pay any attention to the warm up antics of the visiting club. Although Palmerton defeated Stroudsburg, 98-53, on Tuesday, the Mountaineers had the satisfaction of keeping the Bombers under the latter's goal of 100 points by "freezing" the ball for a portion of the final period.

East Stroudsburg Clips Nazareth In Overtime, 54-52

Pensyl Paces Extra Period Victory Rush

BILL PENSYL, limping on a damaged left ankle, saw spot service for the first time in almost three weeks last night, and it was enough to enable the big forward to pace East Stroudsburg to a 54-52 overtime basketball victory before a small crowd on the N. Courtland St. hardwood.

Pensyl, who suffered a sprain fracture of the left ankle against Wilson Borough, played one minute in the first half and then entered the contest for Howard Smith, who fouled out of the battle in the final round.

Although Nazareth's man-to-man defense completely baffled the Cavaliers in the home stretch, Pensyl came to the rescue with a field goal and three foul shots in the overtime session and the Cavaliers evened their second half record in the Lehigh-Northampton League at three wins and a trio of setbacks.

Smith, playing brilliant basketball through his tour of duty, teamed with Bill Sommers to pace the Cavaliers into a 12-10 edge after eight minutes of play and into a 27-19 advantage at the halfway mark. East Stroudsburg, coached by Dick Forster, dominated the second round, 15-9.

It was exactly the same story in the third quarter when the Cavaliers ran up 15 more counters, while the blue and white clad Nazareth contingent settled for nine. The home quintet went into the last eight minutes of play with a 42-28 lead, which collapsed completely when Nazareth shifted from a zone to man-to-man defense.

Nazareth finished with a burst by outscoring the Cavaliers 21-7 in the final round and evened the count when Carl Roth drove home a two-pointer.

Pensyl came to the front in the three minute overtime, although the Blue Eagles were in the thick of the struggle right up to the final whistle.

Smith, who controlled both boards during his term of duty, led the Cavaliers in scoring with 15 points, while Bill Sommers, playing his finest basketball of the current campaign, was right in line with 14. Pensyl wound up hostilities with seven although he played only six minutes in the ball game.

Roth paced Nazareth with 18 counters, while Dick Dech tallied 15 and Bob Mengel 13.

Nazareth actually dominated the field goal department, 21-17, but the Eagles were weak from the foul line, making good on only 10 of 25 foul shots. The visiting crew made only one of seven charity tosses in the fading moments of the battle.

East Stroudsburg won the game by converting 20 of 32 foul shots. The Cavaliers were forced to play without the service of Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, who is on the shelf with an eye injury.

Nazareth gained a measure of revenge by winning the junior varsity tussle, 45-38, despite 12 points by East Stroudsburg's King Beers and 10 by Carl Smith.

Stroudsburg Nips Emmaus In Last Minute

REBOUND—Members of both the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Junior High basketball teams are pictured above battling for a third period rebound in yesterday's contest on the Stroudsburg court. Dick Everitt, right, is awaiting developments and hopeful of getting a fast break started for the Mountaineers. Stroudsburg went on to win, 32-17.

Stroudsburg Junior High Topples East Stroudsburg

STROUDSBURG JUNIOR HIGH School's fifth straight basketball victory was the sweetest of them all as it came against East Stroudsburg Junior High by a 32-17 score yesterday afternoon. The entire Stroudsburg Junior High student body witnessed the contest played on the W. Main St. court.

The win was the seventh in 10 outings for the Mountaineers and it broke a six-game winning streak by the visiting East Stroudsburg contingent. It was the first loss since opening day for the Cavaliers and makes their current record read six wins and two setbacks.

Stroudsburg easily gained revenge for a 35-20 loss at the hands of East Stroudsburg earlier in the season, as the host club jumped off to an early lead and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance.

The Stags, paced by Henry "Hank" Olmsommer, dominated play in every period and was never in trouble at any time in the game. Greene-Dreher led 13-4 at the end of the first period and 23-11 at the halfway mark.

It was the same pattern in the second half as the visiting cagers piled up a 12-6 advantage in the third quarter and a 15-8 bulge in the last eight minutes of battle.

The Stags converted 10 of 17 foul shots and Honesdale parted the cords on seven of 15 free throws. Olmsommer led the Greene-Dreher attack with 19 points.

Greene-Dreher made a clean sweep of the program by winning the junior varsity tussle, 45-30.

Coolbaugh Rolls Over TTHS, 87-39

Tobyhanna—Coach Don Wismer's Coolbaugh High court team continued its winning ways here tonight with an easy 87-39 trouncing of Tobyhanna Township High to remain in a tie for first place in the Monroe County League with Chestnuthill. Both have 11-3 records.

output was too much for the TTHS cagers as he fell just six short of matching the losing team's total.

Eddie Champney's 20 and 14 by Jim Kinsley helped to decide the fight for CHS. Center Willard Costanzo was the only Tobyhanna lead to score in double numbers. He tallied 18.

Coolbaugh romped to a 19-11 first quarter edge and lengthened the margin to 37-19 at halftime. The home forces had little trouble the rest of the way with a 50-point last half.

Poor shooting from the foul line hurt the visitors a great deal. The TTHS aggregation could make good on only 11 of 34 free tries. Coolbaugh converted 15-for-24.

Coolbaugh also gained the junior varsity duke with a 43-22 triumph.

ESSTC Girls Meet Temple

GIRLS OF EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College will attempt to snap their basketball losing streak at three straight games when they oppose Temple in Philadelphia today.

The contest, scheduled for 11:30 a. m., will be played at Crownell Hall, on the Temple campus.

ESSTC opened the present campaign by winning over Cheyney and College Misericordia, but since that time have fallen before Panzer, Hunter and Ursinus in that order.

Today's starting lineup for the Warriors will have Doris Zerbe, Helen Abrams and Yvonne Corson in the forward section and Janet Dicks, Leah Cutler and Pat Zimmerman as guards.

Other girls making the trip are Mary Lee Schusser, Dale Bennett, Rita Fisher, Sandra Secor, Joanne Smith and Beverly Horvath.

Walt "Moose" Bjorn, who played so well against Panzer, will lead the list of substitutes which includes Jack Burke, Lee Hill, Ray Bassolari, and Tom Spillane.

Trenton, featuring several new faces and minus a couple of old ones, since the two squads last met, lost an overtime struggle to Rutgers of South Jersey, 90-88, on Wednesday. Trenton also owns a decision over Paterson.

ESSTC meets Lock Haven on the Normal Hill court next Tuesday.

Hintze, Little Account For Deciding Points

EMMAUS — Dick Hintze and Dick Little collaborated in the final minute of play here last night to give Stroudsburg a thrilling 62-60 basketball victory over Emmaus High, on the losing contingent's home boards.

The victory enabled the in-and-out Mountaineers to even their second half Lehigh Valley record

Lehigh Valley League

at three wins and a similar number of setbacks.

Hintze dropped a field goal into the net with one minute remaining on the clock to deadlock the score at 60-60. Little brought the crowd to its feet by dropping one of his patented jump shots into the basket with less than 20 seconds still to be played. The Mountaineers hung on the remainder of the distance to win.

Both Hintze and Little "dunked" their winning shots from the vicinity of the foul circle.

Both teams picked up 20 points in the first period, but the Mountaineers shot into a 36-35 lead at halftime with a nip-and-tuck 16-15 edge in the second round.

Emmaus, still searching for its initial second half Lehigh Valley League victory, went into the lead at the three-quarter mark, 47-45, with a 12-9 scoring bulge in the third quarter.

Stroudsburg, playing as it did at the beginning of the second half schedule, battled from behind with a strong drive to the finish line. The Mountaineers held a 17-13 advantage in the fourth stanza.

Doug Shook led the Stroudsburg attack with 21 counters and Dave Nevil added 16. All six members of the visiting squad broke into the scoring column for at least two points.

Stroudsburg held a 26-20 edge in field goals, but Emmaus made a real fight of it by finding the range on 20 of 29 foul shots. The Mountaineers converted 10 of 22 charity attempts.

Emmaus won the junior varsity encounter, 56-40.

Chestnuthill Tames Barrett To Remain Tied For Top Spot

CANADENSIS—The Chestnuthill High School quintet overcame a big obstacle in its hopes of gaining the Monroe County League basketball title with a 79-58 victory over the Barrett hoopers last night. The game was played on the Barrett court.

It was win number 11 in 14 loop contests for the visitors of coach Bill Frear. Barrett ranks fourth in the league.

Chestnuthill led all the way and clinched the issue with a 27-point last quarter showing. The Frear-men remained in a tie for the top rung with Coolbaugh, which downed Tobyhanna Township last night.

The visitors held period leads of 16-10, 30-23 at halftime and 52-41 after three sessions. Barrett was impressive from the free throw line with 10 conversions in 15 attempts. Chestnuthill tallied an even 50 per cent with 13-for-26.

The big scoring spree of Dick Keger and Harold Burkett sparked the CHS club. Keger led with 26 and Burkett had 23. Dick Bizovsky hooped 11 to aid the cause.

Center Reid Gravel paced the losing attack with 20 digits for the night. Forwards Phil Price and Phil Shaller teamed for 17 and 10, respectively.

The Barrett team was weakened considerably by the absence of veterans Carl Motts and Don Kropp. Motts was sidelined with a sprained ankle.

Barrett's junior varsity posted a 35-30 triumph in the preliminary battle over Chestnuthill.

Mountains League Lists Doubleheader

POCONO PINES—A Pocono Mountains Basketball League doubleheader will be held here on the Tohyanna Township High School court tonight.

Both games are important struggles as far as the second half circuit standings are concerned. The first clash will send West End against Lake Harmony. The former has dropped close decisions in its two outings in the second half, while Lake Harmony has won its only second half game.

Nightcap activity will send the Stroudsburg Poconos against Williams' Pharmacy, in a game that should be one of the biggest drawing cards on the schedule.

The Poconos, first half champion, have won both their second half starts. Williams' Pharmacy has won its only second half battle. Stroudsburg plans to feature a big "Booster Night" at its next home showing, when Lake Harmony invades the W. Main St. court on Wednesday.

First game action is listed for 7:15 p.m. and the second at approximately 8:30 p.m.

Normal Hill Wrestlers At Home Against Lock Haven

WRESTLERS of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, currently in the midst of their most successful season in history, will play host to the best wrestling squad in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College ranks today in the Normal Hill gymnasium, at 2 p.m.

Lock Haven will bring a record of seven victories and two defeats to town, while ESSTC will counter with a mark of four favorable decisions and one of the unfavorable variety.

The Bald Eagles of Lock Haven dropped a 20-6 verdict to Waynesburg, a school that is now claiming the small college championship with a record of nine wins and no defeats including seven straight this season. The other Lock Haven reversal was inflicted by the University of Pittsburgh.

Although defeated by a margin of 14 points, Elwood Please was the only Lock Haven grappler pinned during the battle.

Coach George Oelckhausen announced yesterday that Bruce Haynes, who is ill at his home in Bath, will be replaced by Jim McCullen in the 157-pound event. Charley Dentith will operate in the 147-pound bout, although he was on the sick list much of this week.

The remainder of the ESSTC lineup will have "Spoke" Potvin in the 128-pound bout; Roy Everts, 130; Jerry Rushin, 137; Charley Shaw, 167 although a wound over his left eye was reopened this week; Ken Cox, 177, and Warren Payne, heavyweight.

Science Puts Britain Back In Limelight

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Estimates made several years ago that Great Britain might soon be reduced to a more insular economy, comparable to that of Switzerland and incapable of supporting an increasing population, may now need revision.

At least the prospect is by no means so immediate as in the first postwar years.

Britain's economic position has been out of all proportion to her natural resources. Because she pioneered the industrial revolution, she grew rich and powerful by processing raw materials produced by others. She had two major assets, skill and coal.

It was inevitable that others would develop the skill, and many have, while all are doing so. That is a British edge which is rapidly disappearing. The day is foreseeable when all nations will process their own raw materials.

Coal production from Britain's thin seams, some of which cannot be mechanized, becomes increasingly difficult and therefore increasingly uneconomical. Yet they are estimated to contain reserves enough to last for 170 years at the current rate.

Nevertheless, the nation has staged a remarkable recovery, despite the fact she has been importing coal and exporting only about a third as much as before the war. Keen, government-controlled business management of a bootstrap operation looking always toward exports, a program heavily underwritten by the United States in its early stages, has worked. She's having a boom.

World trends nevertheless have been working against any long-term resumption of her old position.

However, just as she emerged from her insular position through the industrial revolution 200 years ago, Britain is now driving toward a new start through the development of atomic energy. She intends to build 12 atomic power plants in the next ten years. She thinks she is ahead of every other nation in the development of peaceful uses for atomic energy. The success she has had in developing power plants indicates it is true at least in that field.

At the same time the uranium used in the power reactors will produce plutonium. Plutonium can be used as the trigger for the H-bombs, and Britain has announced she will go in for production of them, too, relying on the capability for strategic bombing to augment America's bombing power as a deterrent to war with Russia. This would give her a peaceful world in which to try to work an economic miracle.

The demand for electricity in Britain has doubled in the last ten years. In addition to the atomic plants, she plans 35 new power stations and 57 extensions of present ones using coal.

Other peoples are going in the same direction. The ability of the British to buy raw materials and sell back the finished product at a profit is going to become more and more difficult. The end result is still likely to be the same as estimated heretofore, but after a much longer period than once believed.

The ability of the British to fight back from the brink of disaster after disaster is one of the world's most amazing phenomena. And this time they are fighting not in the hedgehogs, as Churchill said they would fight Hitler if need be, but in the forefront of one of the world's newest and most unpredictable scientific developments.

It would be a proud thing if skill could once again reverse destiny, even if only for a time.

LOCAL realtor Francis M. Marvin and his brother Rev. E. Alton Marvin, of East Stroudsburg, are enjoying a vacation in Florida having arrived there safely and are now spending some time in Bradenton. They expect to return home around March 1.

During Mr. Marvin's absence Mrs. Marvin has enjoyed the companionship of many members of the Marvin family as well as of other friends and relatives. During the first weekend of Mr. Marvin's sojourn in the south, Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Kirkpatrick, of Easton, spent the weekend with Mrs. Marvin, on Thursday Mrs. Orpha Edwards, of Brookview Manor, Canadensis, came and stayed until Sunday night. She is Mrs. Marvin's only living aunt and the visit was a most pleasant one.

At the present time Staff Sgt. Thomas Brennan, of the U. S. Air Force, Mrs. Brennan and their children Linda Marie, who is 20 months old, and Thomas Joseph Brennan IV, who is 6 weeks old, are visiting with Mrs. Marvin prior to leaving for Denver, Colorado, where Staff Sgt. Brennan has been transferred from Washington, D. C., where he had been stationed for some time. Mrs. Brennan is the former Thelma Motts, daughter of Forrest Motts, of Henryville R. Navy Announces High School Graduate Training Program COMMANDER CHARLES W. CUSHMAN, USN, head of the Philadelphia Navy Recruiting District, said yesterday the Navy Recruiting Service is immediately instituting a new enlistment program aimed specifically at inducting high school graduates to enlist in the Navy.

The new program permits young men, with no previous military service to apply for enlistment in the Regular Navy and specific assignment to one of four major service school training groups.

Prior to the announced program, the Navy enlisted men only for general service, actually guaranteeing them nothing, insofar as schooling went, except the opportunity to apply. Under the new scheme, if the applicant can meet the few basic requisites, he will be enlisted with a designation preceding his Navy rating which indicates he was enlisted specifically for Navy schooling under one of the four major groups, aviation, electronics, administration and hospital.

Examples of training available are air control, radio, radar, communications, and guided missiles. All applicants for enlistment under the Program must be graduated from an accredited high school or vocational school and must be able to present evidence of graduation. In addition, the young men must pass a mental test at the recruiting station to show that they have the mental acuity to benefit from the above-average training to be given.

Commander Cushman said as a continuation of the recent "Operation Minute Man" recruiting drive, the Navy Recruiting Service is accepting applications from young men for enlistment under a program known as the "Navy Buddy Plan" whereby two or more individuals may be sent through training together.
